Congratulations

We are pleased to announce the promotion of long-time team member Jennifer Glowik to the position of Senior Consultant. Jen joined Sullivan Benefits initially as a college intern, and later officially as a Benefits Analyst 10 years ago. Over the years she has also held the position of Consultant. Her dedication, performance and intense focus on delivering value to our clients have been central to our success. Please join us in congratulating Jen on her well-deserved promotion!

Expanding Roles

As we prepare for the opportunities and challenges ahead of Sullivan Benefits in the next several years, we continue to develop our team to possess a broad understanding of our business and our clients. To maintain this momentum, we are expanding Douglas Goodhile's responsibilities to include a role as Sales Consultant. Doug currently serves in the role of Benefit Analyst and will continue to do so; however, his time will now be split between his roles to accommodate his new assignment.

The changes announced above help to further develop our talent and allow us to continue to evolve our business to meet the forever changing world of employee benefits.
